

Organic Farming India

Welcome to the beautiful and life-changing world of Organic Farming India.

Hello farmer friends!

I am N. B. Shukla, founder of OFI. I am your friend and guide in this deeply transformative journey from the vices of the disastrous, chemicals-based agriculture to our age-old, spiritual methods of natural Vedic farming.

Chemicals-based farming – a blessing or curse?

I feel deeply concerned when I see the mass destruction of our planet's natural resources by the man-made, chemicals-based farming methods.

In a blind frenzy of ambition, we are causing irreversible damage to the planet. We are contaminating and destroying the soil, water, air, our own bodies and even our minds.

We are putting the very existence of plants, animals, insects, fishes and humans in stark danger.

We are putting the future of our own children in great jeopardy.

Careless use of harmful chemical fertilizers and pesticides, out of the insatiable greed to obtain more yields in the shortest possible time, is actually shortening our own time on the planet.

Natural farming - the only lasting solution!

As environment-conscious farmers and land-owners it is our responsibility to work towards creating a more organic, sustainable and life-supporting way of farming and living.

We need to adopt a holistic farming system that will eventually outweigh the ill-effects caused by the irresponsible modern farming practices.

Our ancient heritage of natural farming is the surefire way to achieve this goal.

It's time to join hands and free Mother Earth from the clutches of artificial farming.

It's time to transform our farmlands into beautiful little 'heavens on earth' that radiate love and kindness, and support all of its inhabitants.

Are you ready for the paradigm shift?
